Executive Message

Fiscal year 2013/14 was an historic one for the CA profession in Alberta. In June, a vote among members was held to determine whether Alberta CAs supported unification with Alberta CMAs and CGAs under the umbrella of the new CPA (Chartered Professional Accountant) designation.

Just over half of all Alberta CAs voted on this question, with 68.4% of voting members casting their ballots in favour of the unification proposal. The ICAA Council took this as a mandate to proceed with unification, and shortly after the vote results were known, Council signed an agreement with the CMA and CGA organizations.

Work continues to bring Alberta's CAs, CGAs, and CMAs together. Ultimately, this work will result in an organization that will protect the public, establish the CPA designation as the pre-eminent accounting designation in Canada, create new and exciting opportunities for current and future professional accountants, and serve the membership effectively.

Efforts are also underway to work with the Government of Alberta to develop appropriate legislation that will establish and govern the CPA designation and the new Alberta CPA body. As a reminder, only after this legislation is passed will Alberta CAs, CGAs and CMAs be permitted to use the CPA designation.

Many positive steps towards unification were taken in 2013/14, including initiatives in areas such as member services, recruitment into the profession, and regulatory matters. The three legacy designations have worked together in a productive and efficient manner in the service of the public and the profession.

A highlight of this collaborative work was the introduction of the CPA Education Program in Alberta in the fall of 2013. Designed nationally and delivered through the CA School of Business, the CPA Education Program is rigorous, contemporary and focused on preparing the best and the brightest for our profession. The program has been well-received by postsecondary students and others who are contemplating joining our ranks, and we very much look forward to welcoming the first-ever Alberta graduates of the program.

At the same time, the ICAA continues to protect the public and meet its responsibilities under the Regulated Accounting Profession Act. As well, we continue to provide the public and members with necessary services and information. The ICAA will continue to serve as the recognized regulatory body of the CA profession until the CPA designation is recognized in provincial legislation.

There were many other highlights of the year beyond the unification project. In April 2013, the Chartered Accountants Education Foundation, in partnership with the ICAA, received an Alberta Consumer Champion Award from the Government of Alberta in recognition of the CA profession's contributions to financial literacy for young Albertans. This award brought well-deserved distinction to the profession. Also in April, the ICAA's Foreign-Trained Professional Mentoring Program began to operate at full steam. It was followed in October 2013 by the launch of another mentoring stream, this one for CAs transitioning from public practice into industry. In January/February 2014, the profession welcomed 451 new, talented graduates into the CA profession. Within the pages of the annual report, you will be able to read about other achievements over the course of the year.

None of the achievements of the past year would have been possible without the ongoing and valuable contributions the ICAA receives from members. Whether those members volunteer at ICAA events, teach Professional Development courses, or serve on regulatory committees and tribunals, council and committees, the CA profession in Alberta is exceptionally well-served by the commitment and expertise of CAs who offer their time to the profession. We thank all of those volunteers for choosing to make a positive difference.

As productive as 2013/14 was for the ICAA, we expect that 2014/15 will be just as important for the profession and the ICAA. We anticipate that the legislation necessary to complete unification will be proclaimed in 2014/15; in the meantime, we will continue to prepare for the day when the CPA designation is established in Alberta.

We will also continue to fulfill our mandate on behalf of the profession to the best of our ability. In that work, we know we can continue to count on the support and input of the members of the ICAA—Alberta's more than 11,000 Chartered Accountants.

Respectfully submitted,

Management's Discussion & Analysis

The following is Management's Discussion & Analysis ("MD&A") of the ICAA operating and financial results as at and for the year ended March 31, 2014 as well as information on key performance indicators and estimates concerning the Institute's future outlook based on currently available information. This discussion should be read in conjunction with ICAA's audited financial statements as at March 31, 2014 and for the year then ended, together with accompanying notes. All financial information is reported in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations ("Part III") of the CPA Canada Handbook - Accounting.

Forward Looking Information

This MD&A was prepared on May 14, 2014 and is management's assessment of ICAA's historical financial and operating results. Certain statements in this Annual Report and MD&A are forward-looking statements subject to risks and uncertainties. A number of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, fluctuation in the number of new members, increased number or complexity of complaints, changes in enrollment in member education courses, changes in government policy and regulation, and delays in implementation of the strategic plan.

Introduction

The ICAA, formed in 1910, is the body that regulates the Chartered Accountant (CA) profession in Alberta. The Institute operates under provincial legislation, the Regulated

Accounting Profession Act (the "Act"), the purpose of which is to protect the public; protect the integrity of the accounting profession; promote and increase the competence of registrants; and regulate the conduct of registrants.

A key priority for the Institute is to protect the public interest. It does this by:

- Setting and enforcing high professional and ethical standards;
- Promoting and increasing competence of members by providing a comprehensive program of learning opportunities on current business, leadership, financial, accounting and assurance topics;
- Assessing the continuing competence of members;
- Maintaining and improving the competence of public accounting firms and professional service providers by regularly reviewing their practices to confirm compliance with professional and ethical standards and to maintain and improve the competence of members;
- Enforcing practice and ethical standards for registrants, and
- Providing a means by which complaints can be dealt with in a fair and expeditious way.

As well, the Institute serves the needs of Alberta CAs, through the provision of relevant programs, services, and activities designed to assist members in achieving professional success, promoting and improving their competence, and enhancing the value of their membership. These services include:

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

- Providing relevant and cost-effective continuing professional development opportunities;
- Acting as a resource for Alberta CAs in meeting their responsibilities to clients, employers and the public;

- Support and assist registrants in their efforts to meet their responsibilities, enhance their competencies, and achieve their career objectives.

ICAA Strategic Plan and Highlights

In fiscal 2012/13, the ICAA implemented a new three-year strategic plan to address the top priorities of Alberta CAs and to guide the ICAA's activities and operations. Fiscal 2013/14 was the second year of the plan's implementation, which includes the following four strategic imperatives:

- Enhance member services and engagement;
- Engage other stakeholders and raise the CA profession's profile;
- Attract talent to the profession; and
- Protect and maintain regulatory oversight.

In addition, two strategic supports bridge those four goals and serve to establish common themes. They are to:

- Optimize synergy across the profession; and
- Define, promote and protect the CA brand.

Throughout the continued implementation of this strategic plan, the ICAA had a number of notable achievements in the past year.

Enhance member services and engagement

An ongoing priority of the ICAA in fiscal 2014 was ensuring that members' needs continue to be met. The ICAA engaged a random sampling of its members in a comprehensive member survey in the fall of 2013. The survey results were compared to benchmark rates from prior years and provide valuable information to guide the operations of the organization.

Celebrating Alberta CA events in Jasper

The Institute ventured further into non-traditional ways of communicating with members and the general public, including an enhanced presence on social media (Facebook and Twitter) and a series of videos on YouTube.

Alberta CAs also had an opportunity to engage with the ICAA in a number of other ways. The ICAA held many well-received and well-attended events over the year, including two sold-out CA Family Days, which marked eight consecutive sold-out Family Day events. The Celebrating Alberta CAs events, including the Merit Awards Gala, were held at the Jasper Park Lodge. In total, more than 5,500 individuals attended ICAA events to network, get informed and celebrate the profession.

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Engage other stakeholders and raise the CA profession's profile

A vital part of the ICAA's strategic plan is to strengthen the profile and reputation of the CA profession in the marketplace and with the business community, government and the public. In 2013/14, much of this outward-facing work was focused on informing external stakeholders about unification and ensuring that the "brand strength" of the CA profession is carried over into the new CPA designation.

CA Family Day at Prairie Garden & Adventure Farms

The ICAA had many opportunities to pursue these goals over the course of the year, often in partnership with its colleagues at the Alberta Accountants Unification Agency (AAUA). The ICAA was a lead sponsor at several events in the province at which the profession is given a high profile, including: the Distinguished Business Leader Award Gala and the Management Alumni Excellence (MAX) Award Gala, both hosted by the Haskayne School of Business at the University of Calgary; the True Blue Gala, hosted by the Edmonton Police Foundation; luncheon addresses by the Honourable Doug Horner, President of Treasury Board and Minister of Finance, at the Edmonton and Calgary Chambers of Commerce; Officer Training Day, hosted by Junior Achievement of Southern Alberta; Job Shadow Day, hosted by Junior Achievement of Northern Alberta; and many other similar events.

In addition to sponsoring these types of events, the ICAA, along with the AAUA, also met on several occasions with Cabinet Ministers and other provincial government officials, to brief them on the progress of unification and discuss the timing and nature of prospective unification legislation. In the course of these discussions, the ICAA and AAUA were asked to undertake a stakeholder engagement process in order to inform stakeholders about unification and gather their thoughts and ideas about proposed unification legislation.

That engagement process was undertaken from November 2013 to February 2014. In total the ICAA and AAUA connected directly with over 100 stakeholder groups in Alberta from the business, regulatory, post-secondary and community sectors. This was a valuable project; we heard from business leaders, business school deans and many others, and we were able to answer their questions and hear their perspectives on what the impacts on them might be of unification legislation. Their feedback will help form the draft legislation as it is prepared for introduction in the Alberta Legislature.

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Aggressively attract top talent to the profession

Ensuring an appropriate supply of well-educated and well-trained designated accounting professionals continued to be a priority for the ICAA in 2013/14. With the introduction of the CPA Education Program in Alberta in the fall of 2013, it was essential for the ICAA to keep students and business faculties informed of the changes to the education and training programs, and ensure that the rigour and scope of the new programs were understood by all of those considering careers in the profession.

In performing this work, the ICAA worked closely with the Business Development Department at the AAUA. In total, the ICAA attended 42 career information sessions, workshops and career fairs—often with its AAUA colleagues.

CA students networking at the Meet the Approved Training Office events

In addition, the ICAA successfully hosted its “Get Connected” events in Calgary and Edmonton in 2013/14. These annual sessions are held for all post-secondary accounting students to give them the opportunity to hear from, and network with, designated professionals and employers. As well, the ICAA partnered with the AAUA to host the annual “Meet the Approved Training Office” events in Edmonton and Calgary. These all-day events are held annually to “kick off” the fall recruitment season. The events give students opportunities to network with dozens of prospective employers prior to embarking on the process of securing training positions in the profession.

In 2013/14, the ICAA continued to publish its successful recruitment magazine, Capitalize. Each issue of this magazine, which targets post-secondary and high school students across Alberta, provides useful insights into the profession and is distributed to over 4,500 students and educational institutions.

An important part of the recruitment process is ensuring that there are enough approved training office positions to meet student demand. To fulfill this role, the ICAA works year-round to identify and approve new training offices. In 2013/14, a total of 10 new training offices were approved, representing 50 new student positions.

Protect and maintain regulatory oversight

The ICAA regulatory affairs department, with the assistance of outside legal counsel, completed an in-depth review of the ICAA’s Council Resolutions. This was a significant project that commenced in fiscal 2013 and focused on protecting and maintaining our regulatory oversight role.

The ICAA further enhanced its discipline process by providing supplemental training, through the National Certified Inspector Training program, to Complaints Inquiry

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Committee (CIC) members and CIC investigators (both volunteer and contracted CA investigators). The Institute has built a roster of experienced investigators with a variety of backgrounds/skillsets to consistently provide complete and thorough investigator reports to the CIC.

The professional standards and tribunals departments were committed to implementing recommendations of the national Discipline Resource Group and, through the national Discipline Resource Group, ensured the ICAA voice was heard and that protection of the public continues to be the primary focus within the ICAA and nationally.

In the area of practice review, Erin Wallish CA, Director of Practice Review, joined the Practice Inspection Program Standing Subcommittee (PIPSS). The PIPSS is a national working group, the objective of which is to protect the public consistently across the country, by assessing whether public accounting firms comply with professional standards, and by taking appropriate follow-up or remedial action in instances of non-compliance. The program also offers additional protection to the public by providing an educational experience to firms.

Practice review also continues to protect and maintain regulatory oversight by ensuring practice reviews are performed on all public accounting firms and personal service providers.

The registrations area continues to oversee all aspects of registration related matters regarding members, students, public accounting firms, professional corporations and professional service providers, with an objective to protect the public by ensuring registrant compliance with professional responsibilities and obligations and by taking appropriate follow-up or remedial action in instances of non-compliance. Brenda McKenzie, Registrar, continues to sit on the CPA Canada's International Applications Advisory Panel as they work to harmonize and advance the national Evaluation of Experience (EvE) admissions program.

The ICAA prides itself in ensuring compliance with all regulatory requirements, such as payroll reporting and filing, tax and GST compliance and meeting the government reporting requirements.

Key Performance Indicators

As a not-for-profit entity, the ICAA is not driven solely by financial results, though the effective and efficient use of resources is always top-of-mind. Several non-financial indicators are used to measure performance. On a bi-annual basis, the Institute undertakes a comprehensive member survey, which tracks member satisfaction with the ICAA and its programs, services and activities. The last such survey was conducted in the fall of 2013, and results were compared to prior results. Additionally, a number of more specific, smaller surveys and member consultations are done on an ongoing basis to provide feedback and garner member input on the operations of the Institute.

In addition to the findings of those efforts, the following are some of the key performance indicators used to track progress in the four priority areas of the strategic plan.

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Enhance member services and engagement:

- Total Member Education registrations;
- Number of Member Education passports sold;
- Number of enquiries responded to by Professional Services;
- Number of member events;
- Total attendees at member events;
- Number of outreach sessions held with Alberta CAs; and
- Number of Alberta CA followers on social media.

Engage other stakeholders and raise the CA profession's profile:

- Number of corporate events sponsored/attended;
- Number of interactions with Government of Alberta representatives;
- Number of non-CA followers on social media; and
- Number of visits to "The Money Project" website.

Aggressively attract top talent to the profession:

- Number of student attendees at the post-secondary and high school career information and recruitment events;
- Number of training offices approved;
- Number of students in non-audit training path positions; and
- Number of new Alberta registrants with the CA School of Business (CASB).

Protect and maintain regulatory oversight:

- Enhanced governance and regulatory processes;
- Meeting target time between receipt of complaint and CIC decision;
- Number of CIC and Tribunal decisions overturned on appeal;
- Meeting target time to commence hearing;
- Number of practice reviews completed annually;
- Processing of complete member applications within ten (10) business days; and
- Processing of complete Pre-assessment Questionnaires within ten (10) business days.

Looking Ahead

A top priority for the ICAA in 2014/15 will be to obtain the necessary Government of Alberta legislation to recognize the proposed CPA designation. That will be the most important step in completing the unification project and moving to the CPA designation in the province.

It is our hope and expectation that such legislation will be proclaimed during fiscal 2014/15. A great deal of work will be necessary to ensure that members and external stakeholders are kept well informed about the timing and impact of the new designation, and to ensure that the CPA designation is recognized across the province as Alberta's new, pre-eminent accounting and business designation.

The ICAA will collaborate with the Alberta Accountants Unification Agency to ensure these priorities are met. The ICAA will also work closely with CPA Canada and its counterparts in other provinces to ensure that Alberta CAs are well-represented on the national and interprovincial stages, and to maximize the strength and reputation of the profession across Canada. This will be important and exciting work, and we welcome the thoughts and ideas of all CAs on how to achieve those goals.

As well, we will work in partnership to finalize a new mission and strategic plan for the new, unified regulatory body that will emerge when the three professions complete the unification process. New, collaborative teams, priorities and goals will be developed to ensure that unification proceeds as seamlessly and efficiently as possible.

At the same time, the ICAA has the duty to fulfill all of its existing responsibilities under the Act. The ICAA will therefore continue to operate as a distinct regulatory body until such time as unification legislation is proclaimed.

Those existing responsibilities are reflected in the current strategic priorities for the ICAA, which are to: enhance member services and engagement; engage other stakeholders and raise the profession's profile; attract talent to the profession; and protect and maintain regulatory oversight.

So, 2014/15 will be another year of transition, change and progress, both for the ICAA and the profession as a whole. The ICAA looks forward to working with all Alberta CAs in fulfilling its mandate and serving Albertans and the profession with distinction and achievement in 2014/15.

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Capital Resources and Liquidity ('000s)

At March 31, 2014, ICAA had a cash and cash equivalents balance of approximately $1,762 compared to $1,582 at March 31, 2013. The increase is due to the timing of certain payments at year end.

ICAA's Marketable securities consist of fixed income securities with varying terms to maturity. Interest rates range from 1% to 6.5% per annum.

ICAA accounts for its Marketable securities at fair value.

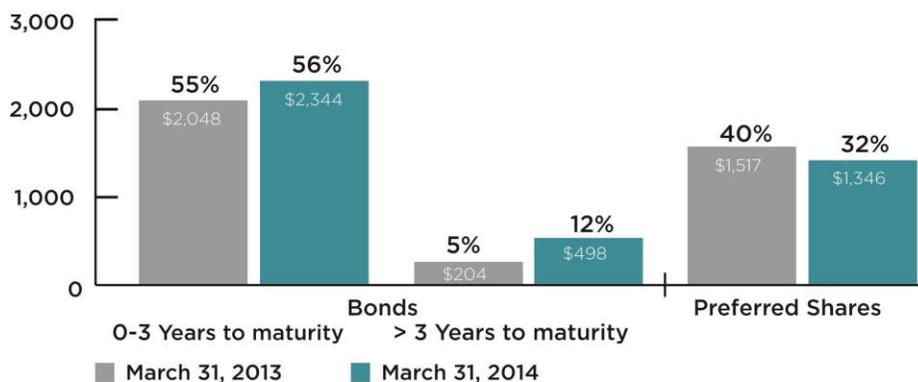

During the year, ICAA acquired property and equipment totaling $123 (2013 – $449). The acquisitions were made primarily for computer system upgrades, particularly the practice review system, continued development of the functionality of ICAA website, and boardroom development.

The working capital position, which is defined as current assets minus current liabilities, is $ 2,528 at March 31, 2014 compared to $2,397 at March 31, 2013. ICAA believes that its current cash balance and anticipated cash flow from operations is sufficient to meet future working capital and capital expenditure requirements.

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Net Assets ('000s)

Council has approved a policy that unrestricted net assets be maintained to ensure a stable financial base sufficient to: avoid major fluctuations in member fees from year to year; cover unpredictable costs; and finance property and equipment purchases. The policy requires ICAA to carry a minimum unrestricted net assets balance of $1,000.

Net assets at March 31, 2014 amounted to $2,932 and consisted of $782 invested in property and equipment and $2,150 of unrestricted net assets. In addition to meeting the Council policy, these unrestricted net assets are carried to reduce the risks associated with significant unforeseen costs, particularly disciplinary matters. The decrease in unrestricted net assets balance from $2,163 to $2,150 is due to unfavourable operating variances (discussed on page 14) and investment in property and equipment.

Non-Financial Resources

ICAA relies heavily on experienced volunteers and employees to enable it to carry out its mandate. ICAA has an experienced team of directors, managers, staff and volunteers that can be re-deployed to meet changing market needs and support the organization in implementing its strategies.

Systems and Processes

ICAA maintains systems of internal accounting and administrative controls of high quality, consistent with reasonable cost. Such systems are designed to provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is relevant, reliable and accurate and that the Institute's assets are appropriately accounted for and adequately safeguarded.

ICAA believes there are no deficiencies that would impair its ability to provide reliable and timely disclosure or affect its ability to execute its strategic plan.

Actual results for 2015 may vary from the information presented and the variations may be material. ICAA does not intend to update this budget information.

The net unfavorable variance in operating results between 2014 actual to 2014 budget of $7 is the result of the following:

Member Fees

Planning and Priorities

Business plans and budgets are prepared by the CEO & Executive Director and the senior management team, and are presented to Council on an annual basis.

Staff are accountable for operations to the CEO & Executive Director, and the CEO & Executive Director is accountable to Council. Council approves the annual fees and is responsible for ensuring that adequate resources are available to meet the legislated mandate of ICAA and to meet strategic and operational priorities.

Risks

Funding and Financial Risks

ICAA relies on member and user fees as well as cost recoveries to fund its statutory obligations and deliver its programs. For 2015, it is budgeted that 36% of ICAA's activities will be financed by user fees and cost recoveries, primarily from Member Education, Practice Review and events.

Human Resources

ICAA depends on the services of member volunteers to carry out some of its activities. The talent and expertise of ICAA's volunteers are valuable resources to ICAA. A risk exists that, in the future, needed volunteers may not be as willing or able to devote their time and talents to ICAA. Without these valuable resources, there is a further risk that knowledge would be lost and significant costs would be incurred by ICAA to recruit more staff/contractors. Volunteer recruitment and recognition programs are used to help manage risk in this area.

Discipline

Under the Act, ICAA is required to protect the interest of the public, protect the integrity of the profession, promote increased competence of members and regulate the conduct of members. A key component of that mandate is the discipline process. Although there is statutory protection for ICAA, its volunteers and staff, a risk exists that a legal action arising from the discipline process may be lodged against ICAA, its volunteers and staff. ICAA maintains liability insurance to minimize this risk.

There is uncertainty about the number of complaints that may be filed with ICAA in any particular year. ICAA is unable to quantify the dollar value and other resources that may be required to satisfy its obligation beyond its budgeted estimates.

Management's Discussion & Analysis May 14, 2014

Demographics

The issue of succession within the profession is a recognized risk, given Canada's aging population. However, thus far the CA profession has been able to maintain positive growth in membership. From 2009 to 2014, inactive members increased by 572, while active members increased by 1,437. ICAA has assessed the risk of a future shortfall of active CAs to meet the demand of the Alberta economy and is addressing it through various strategies at the provincial and national levels designed to increase attractiveness of the profession, with a goal of increasing registration, and, therefore, offsetting the impact of the growth in inactive members.

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Members of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta:

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2014 and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained in our audit is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta as at March 31, 2014 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations.

Other Matters

The financial statements for the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta for the year ended March 31, 2013 were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements on May 16, 2013.

Management's Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying financial statements of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta (ICAA) and all the information in this annual report are the responsibility of management.

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations. Financial statements are not precise since they include certain amounts based on estimates and judgments. When alternative accounting methods exist, management has chosen those it deems most appropriate under the circumstances to ensure that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects. Management has prepared the financial information presented elsewhere in the Annual Report and has ensured that it is consistent with that in the financial statements.

ICAA maintains systems of internal accounting and administrative controls of high quality, consistent with reasonable cost. Such systems are designed to provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is relevant, reliable and accurate and that the Institute's assets are appropriately accounted for and adequately safeguarded.

Council is responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities for financial reporting and is ultimately responsible for the financial statements. Council carries out this responsibility principally through its Audit Committee (the "Committee").

The Committee, which is composed of certain Council members and a member at large, reviews the financial statements and other information contained in the annual report and recommends them to Council for approval. The Committee meets with management, as well as the external auditors, to discuss internal controls over the financial reporting process, auditing matters, and financial reporting issues, to satisfy itself that each party is discharging its responsibilities properly, and to review the financial statements, and the external auditors' report. The Committee also recommends the appointment of the external auditors, which is reviewed by Council and approved by the members.

The financial statements have been audited by Donnelly & Co. LLP Chartered Accountants, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, on behalf of the members. Donnelly & Co. LLP Chartered Accountants has full and free access to the Committee.

Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta (ICAA) is a self-governing professional organization continued by the Regulated Accounting Profession Act of Alberta (RAPA). As a not-for-profit organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada), ICAA is not subject to income taxes.

1. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations ("Part III") of the CPA Canada Handbook - Accounting. Significant accounting policies are described below:

- a) Revenue recognition: Revenue is recognized when evidence of an arrangement exists, the service has been rendered, and the price is determinable, as follows:
 - member and public accounting firm fees are recognized as revenue in the year to which they relate;
 - member education fees are recognized when the courses are presented;
 - communications and events cost recoveries are recognized when the event is held;
 - practice review fees are recognized when the review report is issued; and
 - fines and cost recoveries resulting from hearings and appeals are recognized when collection is considered reasonably assured.
 - investment income is recognized as it is earned over the term of investment.
- b) Donated services: The work of ICAA is dependent on the voluntary services of many members. The value of donated services is not recognized in these statements.
- c) Cash and cash equivalents: Cash and cash equivalents include bank balances and cash held in money market funds, which is predominately invested in instruments with a term to maturity of less than 3 months.
- d) Property and equipment: Property and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization of computer systems commences when the system becomes operational. Amortization is recorded on an annual basis as follows:
 - office equipment – 10 percent and 20 percent declining balance;
 - computer systems – 33 1/3 percent straight-line; and
 - leasehold improvements – straight-line over 130 months (the term of the lease).
- e) Deferred lease inducements: Deferred lease inducements include cash payments received on execution of the lease, as well as the amount of free rent and reduced rent, received over the term of the lease, and are amortized on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.
- f) Deferred rent: The lease includes provisions for periodic increases in base rent over the term of the lease. To recognize the effect of these rent increases, rent expense is recorded using the straight line method. Any excess of rent expense over rent paid is recorded as deferred rent.

- g) Financial instruments: Financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at fair value adjusted by, in the case of a financial instrument that will not be measured subsequently at fair value, the amount of transaction costs directly attributable to the instrument. All financial assets and financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost, except for Marketable securities, which are measured at fair value. Changes in fair value of Marketable securities are recognized in the Statement of Operations in the period incurred.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost include Cash and cash equivalents and Accounts receivable.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include Accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, ICAA determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized by selling the financial asset or the amount ICAA expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

- h) Use of estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Part III requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Management estimates the collectability of Accounts receivable and Amortization of property and equipment. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- i) The Unification Agency Shared Cost Agreement: As disclosed in note 8, ICAA accounts for its share of Unification Agency costs as incurred.
- j) Allocation of general support expenses: ICAA incurs various general support expenses that support other functions. The costs of these activities are allocated to the relevant functions on a consistent basis that aims to estimate the proportion of benefit. The groupings and allocation basis are as follows:
- Accounting - includes reporting, payroll, human resources, planning and analysis and facilities, allocated based on the average of time spent as reported by all accounting staff.
 - Information technology - including projects, allocated based on effort estimated using the number of staff in the department.
 - Website – allocated based on the relative benefit as estimated by the IT Department.
 - Print shop – includes production or coordination of outsourcing of various print and other media publications and products, allocated based on time requirements as recorded by the print shop staff.

ICAA's lease for office space is effective for the term from March 1, 2012 to December 31, 2022. In connection with the renewal of the lease, a rent free period was negotiated for the period from January to June, 2013. Year Ending March 31
2015	$283,517

Discipline

Under RAPA, ICAA is required to regulate the conduct of its members. At March 31, 2014 a number of investigations and hearings were in progress, as disclosed in Appendix 3, Functional Area Reports.

Contingencies

ICAA is defending two statements of claim. The outcome and an estimate of loss, if any, is not determinable. Defense costs to date have been covered by the ICAA's insurer.

Under the terms of the Memorandum of Agreement related to the Unification Agency Shared Cost Agreement, a break fee of $500,000 will become due and owing if certain events occur (unilateral withdrawal, abandonment, discontinuance, or refusal or failure to fulfill obligations under the Agreement) and are not cured within a certain timeframe. There are provisions for arbitration to resolve disputes.

Retirement Benefit

ICAA has a Supplemental Retirement Benefit whereby certain staff are entitled to a retiring allowance upon termination of service, calculated with reference to earnings, which earns interest at a predetermined rate. The amount is included in Accounts payable and accrued liabilities and is payable when the employee discontinues providing service to ICAA.

4. Chartered Accountants Education Foundation of Alberta

ICAA is related to the Chartered Accountants' Education Foundation of Alberta (CAEF). CAEF was established under the Societies Act of Alberta. The Nominating Committee of the Board of Governors, which includes two Council members, appoints persons to serve on the Board of Governors of CAEF. Council establishes the level of contributions to CAEF by way of a component of fees assessed to ICAA members. CAEF is a not-for-profit organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and therefore is not subject to income taxes. CAEF manages restricted funds as directed by the donors, or in accordance with criteria approved by the Board of Governors.

For 2014, ICAA contributed $660,756 (2013 – $636,669) toward CAEF general revenue. For 2015, it is budgeted that ICAA will contribute approximately $694,000. ICAA has recovered $172,795 (2013 – $234,425) for operating costs incurred on behalf of CAEF. The transactions are in the normal course of operations and are measured at the exchange amount, which is the amount of consideration established and agreed to by the related parties.

Amounts due from CAEF at March 31, 2014 totaled $11,181 (March 31, 2013 – $16,431), and are included in Accounts receivable. Amounts due to CAEF at March 31, 2014 totaled $7,826 (March 31, 2013 – $nil), and are included in Accounts payable.

CAIPW is incorporated under Part II of the Canada Corporations Act. ICAA Council appoints two persons to serve on the eight person board of CAIPW. As a not-for-profit organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada), CAIPW is not subject to income taxes.

During the year ended March 31, 2014, ICAA purchased benefit plan services for its employees from CAIPW costing $210,107 (2013 – $224,447). 6. CA School of Business

The CA School of Business (CASB) develops, delivers, and administers pre-certification education for students in the four western provinces and territories. ICAA has delegated the registration of its students to CASB and CASB receives student dues. CASB is a not-for-profit organization incorporated under the Canada Corporations Act and is not subject to income taxes. CASB is governed by a nine person board, consisting of one member appointed by each participating provincial Institute and the balance appointed by a nominating committee, comprised of the presidents of the participating provincial institutes.

During the year ended March 31, 2014, CASB charged ICAA $34,065 (2013 - $31,650). The transactions are in the normal course of operations and are measured at the exchange amount, which is the amount of consideration established and agreed to by the related parties.

CA Assist – Alberta Chartered Accountants Assistance Society (CA Assist), was established under the Societies Act of Alberta and provides counseling services delivered by professional service providers to CAs, CA students and their immediate families. CA Assist is governed by a Board of Directors.

For 2014, ICAA contributed $184,970 (2013 – $141,710) toward CA Assist general revenue. For 2015 and thereafter, Council has established that the level of contribution to CA Assist will be by way of a component of fees assessed to ICAA members, which has been set at $21 per Alberta resident member, and $7 per nonresident member, or approximately $194,440. During the year ended March 31, 2014 ICAA recovered $31,693 (2013 - $141,703) for operating costs incurred on behalf of CA Assist. 8. Alberta Accountants Unification Agency (AAUA)

The Alberta Accountants Unification Agency (AAUA) was formed to facilitate the merger of Alberta's professional accounting organizations as part of the Chartered Professional Accountants Canada (CPA) affiliation. ICAA entered into a Shared Cost Agreement with the Certified General Accountants Association of Alberta (CGA) and the Society of Management Accountants of Alberta (CMA) in September 2013. ICAA shares on an equal basis one third of certain identified unification costs. During the year ended March 31, 2014, ICAA has recovered $16,313 (2013 – $ nil) for operating costs incurred on behalf of AAUA. Amounts charged by AAUA during the year are $346,087 (2013 - $nil). The transactions are in the normal course of operations and are measured at the exchange amount, which is the amount of consideration established and agreed to by the related parties.

9. Financial Instruments and Risk Management

Financial instruments

Marketable securities are carried at fair values as determined directly by reference to published price quotations in an active market.

Credit risk

ICAA does not have a concentration of credit exposure with any one party; therefore ICAA does not consider that it is exposed to undue credit risk.

Interest rate risk

Marketable securities of ICAA are subject to price risk because changing interest rates impact the market value of the government and corporate bonds, which are fixed rate investments.

Other price risk

Other price risk refers to the risk that the fair value of Marketable securities, or the future cash flows associated with the Marketable securities, will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from currency risk or interest rate risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual instrument, or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar instruments traded in the market.

ICAA manages its credit, interest rate and other price risk by restricting investments to a diverse range of corporate preferred shares and government and corporate fixed income securities with specified ratings and terms as prescribed by Council resolution. As it is ICAA's expectation to hold Marketable securities to maturity, cash flows are exposed to minimal price risk.

10. Allocation of General Support Expenses

ICAA allocates general support expenses provided to other functions based on the estimated proportion of benefit. Accounting, information technology, website and print shop expenses of $ 1,471,891 (2013 - $1,735,445) are allocated as follows:

	2014	2013
Member Relations	$ 408,153	$ 657,381

Tribunals are quasi-judicial bodies comprised of CA appointees and public members. A Discipline Tribunal adjudicates allegations of unprofessional conduct, hears evidence, makes findings of guilt and/or innocence and imposes sanctions. An Appeal Tribunal adjudicates appeals of decisions of the Complaints Inquiry Committee Chair; Complaints Inquiry, Registration and Practice Review committees; and Discipline Tribunals. The Tribunals area provides administrative and logistical support and monitors compliance with orders.
