Message from the Chair and CEO

Fiscal 2019/20 marked the halfway point of CPA Alberta's current five-year strategic plan, and we are immensely proud of the accomplishments we have made so far. As you'll see in the following pages, we made great strides toward achieving the strategic priorities in our five-year plan, while continuing to fulfill our legislated mandate to protect the public and provide Alberta Chartered Professional Accountants (CPAs) with valuable services and resources.

Albertans can be confident in the organization's efforts to educate and regulate the competency and ethical standards of Alberta CPAs, which are the cornerstone of our work to protect the public. Not only did our Practice Review department complete 564 reviews in 2019/20—the most ever in a single year—our Registrations department improved upon internal targets that went over and above the requirements in the CPA Act for regulatory processing timelines.

In addition, 25 per cent more online seminars were offered this year, compared to 2018/19, which enhanced the accessibility of our professional development offerings and enabled more CPAs to maintain their expertise and competence when serving the public.

Connection, community, and collaboration underscored many of the organization's engagement initiatives and services in 2019/20. Highlights of our activity in this area include growing our Peer-to-Peer Forums across the province to include smaller centres, such as Lethbridge, Red Deer, and Grande Prairie, and expanding our health and wellness program, CPA Assist, into Saskatchewan.

CPA Alberta also increased its engagement with and support for Alberta employers by creating a new Employer Relations team. To help employers better support their CPA candidates, the team hosted several events, developed informative resources, and facilitated connections between employers to help them share best practices for training candidates.

The growth of the profession remained a key priority for CPA Alberta in 2019/20. In early 2020, we welcomed a record-breaking 831 successful Common Final Examination writers into the profession at convocation events in Calgary and Edmonton. The consistent year-to-year growth in the number of graduates indicates that the CPA profession remains a popular and attractive career choice for students and professionals across the province, which is a testament to CPA Alberta's recruitment efforts and the example set by all Alberta CPAs in their communities and workplaces.

Alberta CPAs continue to be dedicated leaders and mentors who contribute their expertise and time to help grow and advance the profession. Thank you to the numerous Alberta CPAs who volunteer for and provide input toward our initiatives. We would not be able to do what we do without your support and help. And thank you to all Alberta CPAs who similarly enhance the reputation of the profession by contributing their skills and knowledge to organizations and causes that are important to them. Your passion and accomplishments are a true credit to the profession and make immeasurable impacts to communities around the province.

Lastly, we want to thank all Board Members and the team at CPA Alberta for their commitment to protecting the public and advancing the profession. Your efforts are deeply appreciated, and the achievements highlighted in this annual report would not have been possible without your hard work.

Sincerely,

Darrell Jones FCPA, FCMA

The Board Chair and other executive positions are filled through elections by the Board.

The CPA Alberta Directives outline Board roles and duties in more detail. These roles and duties are focused on governance, leadership, ethics and integrity, meeting procedures, performance, strategic planning and budgets, and finance and risk management.

The CPA Education Foundation's 2020 Impact Award is presented posthumously to Robert (Bob) Young FCPA, FCA, who passed away in 2019. The award is in recognition of Bob's legacy of service to the Foundation and to accounting education in Alberta.

Proud CPA grads are welcomed to the profession at the CPA Alberta convocation gala, a celebration recognizing the hard work and dedication it takes to make it to this milestone.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

Fiscal 2019/20 marked the halfway point in the implementation of CPA Alberta's current five-year strategic plan. This plan, developed and endorsed by the CPA Alberta Board, outlines five strategic priorities for the organization:

1. Protecting the public
2. Understanding the Alberta landscape
3. Dealing with disruption
4. Achieving smart growth
5. Maintaining fiscal accountability

The work done in the first half of this five-year cycle provides a tremendous base from which to move forward and enables the organization to better understand the landscape in which it operates—and the very likely future the profession will soon navigate. The second half of this cycle will continue to translate that information into concrete actions.

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) reports on the key highlights and achievements toward fulfilling those priorities in the 2019/20 fiscal year. The analysis concludes with a look ahead to what the organization expects to focus on during 2020/21.

The MD&A is an overall review of CPA Alberta's performance—how we upheld our mandate of protecting the public interest and created value for more than 29,500 Alberta CPAs—and it should be considered in conjunction with the organization's audited financial statements.

Lou Marta is honoured for his 60 years in the profession at the Chair's Long Service Awards in June, which he attended with Diann, his wife of 61 years! The Chair's Long Service Awards in June honoured dozens of CPAs celebrating 40, 50, and 60 years in the profession.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY #1: Protecting the Public

CPA Alberta will continue to fulfill its mandate to protect the integrity of the profession, to promote and increase the competence of registrants, and to regulate the conduct of registrants.

Registrations

One of CPA Alberta's essential roles in protecting the public is assisting and monitoring the more than 39,000 CPA Alberta registrants. ("Registrants" include CPAs, candidates, professional accounting firms, professional corporations, and professional service providers.) The Registrations department ensures compliance with the CPA Act and governing documents, provides accurate and informative responses to questions or concerns about any registrant or registration matter, monitors Continuing Professional Development (CPD) reporting and verifies (audits) members' CPD submissions, and takes appropriate remedial action in instances of non-compliance.

In 2019/20, the Registrations department evaluated and improved upon internal targets for regulatory processing timelines (over and above the requirements in the CPA Act). The Registrations department has consistently met or exceeded these targets.

CPA Alberta's website has also been updated to better clarify members' CPD obligations and, particularly, the new ethics requirement. In 2018/19, in collaboration with all Canadian CPA provincial and territorial regulatory bodies, CPD requirements were harmonized. These harmonized requirements now include a prescribed four-hour professional ethics component within each three-year rolling cycle. Alberta CPAs will be required to report on compliance with the professional ethics component starting with the 2021 CPD reporting year.

Conduct and Discipline

As trusted advisors to the public, all CPA Alberta registrants (including members, candidates, professional accounting firms, professional corporations, and professional services providers) are accountable for and manage critical and confidential financial information. CPA Alberta's Conduct and Discipline department manages all complaints about registrants in accordance with the processes set out under the CPA Act. These processes are, in part, meant to ensure the public is protected and practice standards and rules of professional conduct are enforced.

In addition to the regular conduct and discipline processes (see stats below), in 2019/20, CPA Alberta increased its commitment to fulfilling its regulatory objectives beyond the requirements set out in the CPA Act.

The Conduct and Discipline department issued circulars about topics of specific interest to members, including member obligations and limitations related to the Alberta Personal Information Protection Act, outsourcing, and audit insurance. Each of these pieces offered insights on complying with member obligations under CPA Alberta's governing documents and on hot-button topics on the minds of many CPA Alberta registrants.

Practice Review

CPA Alberta's Practice Review department also plays an essential role in protecting the public. Practice Review assesses firms' compliance with professional standards under the National Harmonized Practice Review Program and provides an educational experience for firms.

In 2019/20, the Practice Review department completed 564 reviews, the most ever in a single year. Follow-up reviews are completed within 12 months of the initial practice review.

Number of practice reviews

	2019/20	2018/19
Comply	528	497
Non-comply	36	39
Total reviews assessed	564	536

Regulatory Report

CPA Alberta also launched a new e-newsletter, the Regulatory Report, for all Alberta CPAs to keep them aware of the organization's efforts to protect the public. This was a collaborative effort across departments—including Registrations, Conduct and Discipline, Practice Review, and Communications.

The idea for the e-newsletter stemmed from an observation from the Complaints Inquiry Committee in 2018. The committee emphasized that the conduct process must not just be effective under the CPA Act; its results must also be transparent so that registrants are aware of recently sanctioned unprofessional conduct and the consequences flowing from such conduct.

The goal of the Regulatory Report is to provide this information and other important updates specifically related to CPA Alberta's regulatory role within the profession. The content of the publication includes summaries of conduct cases and discipline decisions, informative updates to allow Alberta CPAs to better comply with the standards of the profession, and insights into the individuals and processes behind CPA Alberta's regulatory work and how it protects the public through its regulatory frameworks.

CPA Competency

Another of CPA Alberta's core roles is to help the profession maintain the competency of Alberta CPAs, who are then able to best serve the public. From the practical experience component of the CPA Certification program to professional development (PD) offerings and mental health services, CPA Alberta provides a number of opportunities for learning, networking, and career development.

Practical Experience

Practical experience is a mandatory and integral component of the CPA Certification program. Through practical experience, PEP (Professional Education Program) candidates develop their ethical and professional behaviour, problem solving, decision-making, communication, teamwork, and leadership skills. This helps them to best serve the public when they graduate as CPAs.

In 2019/20, the Practical Experience department also participated in comprehensive national calibration testing to ensure assessments are being conducted consistently and fairly across the country. This year, CPA Alberta received 679 requests for assessment against the completion requirements.

The Practical Experience department has collaborated extensively on the re-design of the Practical Experience Reporting Tool, which aims to better support candidates in the reporting of their practical experience and provide mentors, employers, and other stakeholders with more useful information.

Professional Development

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta offered 361 in-person PD seminars, 386 online sessions, six executive programs, and five conferences, for a total of 10,770 registrations. To enhance flexibility and accessibility of learning, 25 per cent more online seminars were offered than in 2018/19. CPA Alberta also offered 14 customized training sessions to more than 380 participants.

This year, CPA Alberta implemented valuable changes to the main Professional Development Program. These updates include a reduced pricing strategy for seminars and passports, a new passport validity period, online formats, and new promotional strategies to improve the value and access for Alberta CPAs to enhance their professional competencies. CPA Alberta's Business Systems department also invested in analytics to enhance the planning, development, relevancy, and marketing of member products and services, including PD.

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta also re-introduced executive programming into its professional development offerings, and it had more than 140 participants. These in-residence programs target a wide variety of industries and included two controllership programs, two CFO programs, and a new innovation and technology executive program, which was developed in partnership with SAIT.

Member Engagement

Keeping members engaged in the profession and the professional standards is an important component to ensuring their competency.

In 2019/20, the Technical Advisory team responded to more than 2,500 inquiries from members and the public on topics including ethical dilemmas, practice management, independence, conflicts of interest, and accounting and auditing standards.

CPA Alberta also facilitated nine roundtables, focus groups, and presentations with organizations, including the Canada Revenue Agency, the Accounting Standards Board, the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board, the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants, and the Government of Alberta, engaging more than 400 CPAs. These sessions enabled members to engage on the standard-setting process, stay updated on recent developments within the profession, and/or provide their insights on opportunities for improvement.

Peer-to-Peer Forums were established in 2018/19 to provide an opportunity for Alberta CPAs and CPA candidates to share their experience and knowledge around a common topic and help each other tackle issues and challenges they may be facing. In 2019/20, CPA Alberta continued to hold these forums in Edmonton, Calgary, Grande Prairie, Red Deer, and Lethbridge on various topics, including cybersecurity, robotic process automation, data analytics, artificial intelligence, machine learning, and cloud computing.

Career Services

CPA Alberta provided additional support in career advising through Monday Meetups, a peer-to-peer job search support group with active participation, particularly from members in Calgary where extended joblessness has been an issue. Participants were eager to share labour market insights, and relevant topics for future webinars or workshops were often revealed.

LinkedIn groups were created for several ongoing Member Services programs to provide cost-effective resources and discussion forums and support volunteers and participants, particularly in remote parts of the province.

Now in its second year, the Online Resource Centre was updated with a podcast section and includes links to topics like tax, accounting and finance, entrepreneurship, innovation, and diversity in the workforce.

Career Services also expanded its delivery of events, with 68 events planned in the fiscal year, a 79 per cent increase from the previous year. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, several of the planned events had to be cancelled or postponed, but 61 were executed successfully.

CPA Alberta hosts its first Information, Technology, and Accounting Conference, designed to explore new technologies within the accounting and finance world.

CPAs from across the province develop their skills and knowledge at Elevate Your Mind, a full-day conference of thought-provoking sessions led by engaging speakers.

The Honourable Jason Copping, Minister of Labour and Immigration (right), poses for quick snapshot with CPA Alberta's CEO, Rachel Miller, and the Board's Vice-Chair, Damian Zapisocky, after connecting with Alberta CPAs at a breakfast hosted by CPA Alberta in November.

Two CPAs protect themselves from the sun at the Elevate Golf Tournament, a fun opportunity for some networking and, of course, a little competition!

Alberta CPAs pitch in at Edmonton Meals on Wheels to make some nutritious meals for community members during CPA Alberta's annual Elevate week in June.

Elevate

More than 2,200 people gathered to celebrate, learn, and connect at Elevate 2019: Celebrating Progress and Achievement, the annual celebration of the profession. Elevate events included volunteer opportunities in communities throughout the province, recognition of long-serving members and CPA Alberta Achievement Award recipients, and many chances to network with fellow CPAs.

Another important event was the Elevate Your Mind professional development conference, which encouraged participants to “ignite their future” through informative keynote and session speakers, who provided valuable knowledge and tips for increased results.

Volunteering

Volunteer Days were held during Elevate 2019 in June and again in November 2019 during Financial Literacy Month. More than 230 CPAs volunteered with 18 organizations across five Alberta cities.

CPA Alberta’s Volunteer Tax Clinic Program to assist low-income Albertans by preparing personal tax returns normally takes place annually in the first few months of the year. In 2019/20, the COVID-19 pandemic impacted CPA Alberta’s ability to deliver in-person clinics, and the organization is exploring alternative solutions to deliver clinics for the 2019 taxation year.

CPA Assist

CPA Assist provides confidential counselling services and 24/7 crisis support to Alberta and Saskatchewan CPAs, candidates, and their immediate families. This year, CPA Assist also hosted seven webinars on a variety of subjects, including mindful eating, stress management, active living, and exam anxiety. In total, the webinars were viewed by 1,486 participants.

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta, with Howatt HR Consulting, conducted a mental health and wellness study as part of the CPA Assist Program to gather information on members’ behaviours and attitudes towards health and wellness and provide insight into the issues CPAs and their families are facing. The study had 453 CPAs and candidates participate in the online assessment tool.

The research showed that the respondents are currently facing a significant amount of stress, and approximately 58 per cent of respondents experience a major stressor on a daily basis. The respondents are reporting at the national average for mental health issues: one in five Alberta CPAs struggle with a mental health issue, which is the same as the national average. This research will enable CPA Alberta to better support CPAs and their mental health.

In September 2019, the CPA Assist Program was extended to provide support to Saskatchewan CPAs through a partnership agreement.

Communications

Ensuring clear and consistent communication with CPAs ensures they are aware of professional standards and CPA Alberta offerings. Similarly, communicating with the public is highly important so they know the value of working with CPAs and how CPA Alberta works to protect them.

Successful social media campaigns on International Accounting Day and International Women’s Day—as well as materials such as the More Than Numbers brochure, CPA Alberta’s About Us flipbook, and issues of The Asset (CPA Alberta’s e-newsletter for MLAs)—promote the contributions of Alberta CPAs to all sectors of the economy and demonstrate how CPA Alberta protects the public.

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta sponsored nearly 30 business- and community-focused events. In addition to high-profile events such as Small Business Week in Edmonton and Calgary, CPA Alberta promoted the value of CPAs at the Edmonton Public Library’s sold-out Forward Thinking Series featuring the Mayor of Edmonton, Don Iveson; the Calgary Influential Women in Business Awards; and the Art of Leadership in Calgary, which had almost 1,200 attendees.

CPA Alberta enhanced the national “Faces of CPA” brand advertising campaign with digital ads at busy intersections in Calgary and Edmonton and on prominent billboards in the Edmonton ICE District and along the Plus 15 pathway in Calgary. Ads also appeared on the elevator and lobby screens of 39 buildings in Edmonton and Calgary in fall 2019. The national brand campaign introduced Alberta business people and the general public to Canadian CPAs who visually represented qualities such as tomorrow, leadership, and integrity.

Alberta CPA Salina Dharamsi was featured in the profession’s national brand awareness campaign as “The Face of Tomorrow.”

STRATEGIC PRIORITY #2: Understanding the Alberta Landscape

CPA Alberta will have a solid and broad comprehension of the forces shaping Alberta today and in the near future. With that comprehension, the profession can best ensure that it and its members remain relevant, valued and in fact essential to the province.

Events and Learning Opportunities

CPA Alberta invited the Honourable Jason Copping, Minister of Labour and Immigration (and Minister responsible for the CPA Act), to speak at a November breakfast event about the government's work to reduce red tape. This well-attended event gave CPAs the opportunity to learn more about the Government of Alberta's priorities.

Additionally, CPA Alberta was the presenting or silver sponsor of a number of high-profile events featuring the Honourable Travis Toews, Minister of Finance, and Premier Jason Kenney throughout 2019/20. CPA Alberta Board members and executive staff sat with government officials at these events, allowing CPA Alberta to not only get a better understanding of Alberta's landscape, but also to increase awareness of CPA Alberta's regulatory work and how the organization fulfills its mandate to protect the public.

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta expanded in-person learning opportunities across Alberta and delivered 11 in-person seminars to approximately 150 local CPAs in Grande Prairie, Lloydminster, Red Deer, and Lethbridge on a variety of timely and relevant topics.

CPA Alberta also collaborated with and supported local chapters and practitioner groups to assist members in building and developing their professional networks and gaining and sharing professional knowledge. Over 4,600 members attended 61 chapter events in 2019/20. Some of the event topics related to understanding the province's landscape included Alberta's Economy 2019: One Thing That Matters a Little and Five Things That Matter a Lot, a presentation from Alberta's Minister of Finance, and a presentation from the CEO of Alberta Innovates.

Work with CPA Canada

CPA Alberta continued to work with its national counterpart, CPA Canada, throughout 2019/20. This year, the work enabled CPA Alberta—and the profession as a whole—to gain a better understanding of the Alberta landscape and the specific social and economic issues facing our province.

CPA Alberta served as an advisory board member for CPA Canada's 2019 Oil & Gas Conference and delivered a pre-conference workshop on data analytics to 35 participants.

The Member Engagement team also continued to work collaboratively with CPA Canada to deliver their Financial Literacy Program presentations through more than 500 Alberta CPAs.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY #3: Dealing with Disruption

CPA Alberta will understand the impacts of disruption on the CPA profession, and implement strategies to respond positively to those impacts.

Professional Development and Learning Opportunities

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta introduced several new targeted programs to assist CPAs in learning and understanding the impact of disruption in the profession. These included several short-term seminars, an executive program on innovation and technology, and a two-day conference on innovation and technology in accounting with more than 100 attendees.

CPA Alberta continued its educational road trip in 2019/20, delivering 29 sessions in 22 Alberta communities on CPA Canada's Foresight: Reimagining the Profession project. The CPA Foresight project looks to the year 2030, and the resulting report presents insights from the initiative and makes an urgent case for change. The sessions focused on trends around the key drivers of change for the future, a review of key findings from the project, and insights on some plausible futures for the world and the accounting profession. In addition, the sessions helped enhance the visibility of member engagement opportunities, member products and services, and the CPA Assist Program.

In its collaboration with local chapters, CPA Alberta also supported several events related to disruption, including Solving the Cryptocurrency Puzzle, Data Analytics in Finance, and Scientific Research and Experimental Development Tax Incentive Program.

Resources and Communications

Helping Alberta CPAs seize the opportunities created by disruption and effectively navigate uncertainty was a focus of many articles and other communications from CPA Alberta. All told, more than 200 valuable pieces of content were created and distributed through social media posts and articles in the Daily Dividends e-newsletter and Dividends magazine to help CPAs deal with this challenge.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY #4: Achieving Smart Growth

CPA Alberta will gain an understanding of the emerging needs for CPAs in the marketplace and set growth strategies to meet these needs.

Through a variety of initiatives, CPA Alberta continued to grow membership and better understand the needs of incoming CPAs. Once again, the profession welcomed a record-setting number of candidates who passed the Common Final Examination (CFE). These 831 graduates were ushered into the profession at convocation events in Calgary and Edmonton in January and February 2020.

Recruitment

CPA Alberta's Recruitment team continued its work to attract new entrants to the profession, focusing primarily on post-secondary students, the group that makes up the vast majority of individuals who successfully join the profession. In addition to a number of other activities, new recruitment materials, including a presentation and brochures featuring Alberta CPAs, were created. They focused on the theme of "Who do you want to be?" to emphasize the opportunities inherent in the profession and the value a CPA designation can provide to any career.

In 2019/20, issues of Capitalize, CPA Alberta's semi-annual student recruitment magazine, continued to focus on the key benefits of pursuing a CPA designation and how a CPA designation is relevant to the career aspirations of high school and post-secondary students across the province. Issues in 2019/20 celebrated 70 years of women in the Alberta profession and featured "how-to" tips from Alberta CPAs on topics such as negotiating a job offer and finding a good mentor.

As a result of 2019/20 recruitment activities, 1,127 individuals in Alberta entered the CPA Professional Education Program (PEP).

CPA Alberta also hosted a gathering of national recruitment leads to share best practices with respect to growing the profession.

Employer Relations

CPA Alberta created a new Employer Relations team to provide Alberta employers with resources and information to better help them support their CPA candidates. In 2019/20, the team developed almost 20 informative resources, such as publications and blog posts for candidates and employers; hosted 15 events for candidates to increase their preparedness for CPA PEP or to write the CFE; and facilitated connections between industry experience verification route employers and pre-approved program route employers to help them share best practices and techniques for training candidates.

As CPA Alberta is the first in the profession to create such a team, Employer Relations is sharing their experiences and learnings with other provincial CPA organizations interested in emulating the same initiatives across Canada.

Practical Experience

The Practical Experience team created 13 new pre-approved programs or made material modifications to existing pre-approved programs at employers across Alberta. The focus for the team this year was on working with existing pre-approved program providers in both industry and public accounting to develop new and diverse roles. This will better enable Alberta CPA candidates to complete their practical experience requirements.

Through corporate reorganization, the task of identifying new employers to become pre-approved program route providers and experience verification route opportunities for candidates was moved to the Employer Relations team. The team continues to look for opportunities to establish new pre-approved program routes at employers across Alberta and is focused on building collaborative and productive relationships with current and new employers.

Post-secondary students network and learn more about future career opportunities at CPA Alberta's annual Meet Your Employer, a post-secondary student event held each September.

Dale Somerville FCPA, FCA took time out of his busy schedule in March to share his tax expertise as a guest on the "Straight From the CPA's Mouth" podcast sponsored by the CPA Education Foundation's Hesje CPA Knowledge Centre. Dale, who was granted Fellowship in March for his service to the profession and the community, is shown here in-studio at the recording of his podcast.

Students act out handing over apartment keys in a photo shoot for the How-to Issue of Capitalize, CPA Alberta's semi-annual magazine introducing Albertans to the profession.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY #5: Maintaining Fiscal Accountability

CPA Alberta will maintain and demonstrate fiscal accountability.

Business Continuity

In 2019/20, CPA Alberta's Corporate Strategy and Risk team led projects to sustain organization capacity and a resilient CPA Alberta that is agile in responding to our changing business environment. The electronic documentation management project has engaged departments across the organization to understand current practices and systems with a view to making recommendations to best suit our ongoing business needs.

A new Emergency Response Plan was implemented, and the Business Continuity Plan was being updated when COVID-19 provided a real-time opportunity to test the framework of the pandemic plan. The full plan will be finalized in 2020/21.

Internal Projects

In 2019/20, the Corporate Strategy and Risk department also enhanced CPA Alberta's already robust internal controls program to formalize its system based on the COSO framework, a model for defining and evaluating internal controls. This model has been adopted as the generally accepted framework for internal control and is widely recognized as the definitive standard against which organizations measure the effectiveness of their systems.

In 2018/19, CPA Alberta amended the organization's strategy map to simplify and better reflect its strategic priorities. This year, CPA Alberta continued to report on the corporate business plan based on the strategy map. Operationally, CPA Alberta continues to refine the key performance indicators across all operations to provide appropriate and timely reporting.

CPA Alberta has also enhanced its capacity and effectiveness by implementing a new PD and event management system, EventsAIR.

On the cyber security front, CPA Alberta's Business Systems team continues to update best practices and guidance for members and makes that information readily available on CPA Alberta's website. Internally, CPA Alberta has ongoing training and testing for staff and is continuously monitoring and improving its security controls.

To support a culture of high performance, employee engagement, innovation, and collaboration, CPA Alberta undertook an initiative to implement a new intranet. Brainstorming sessions were held with staff to identify their needs and identify ways to increase organizational awareness and create a sense of community. In response to a request for proposal, several vendors provided demonstrations of their recommended solution. The solution is currently in development and is expected to go live early in 2020/21.

Internal Projects to Enhance Technology and Improve Efficiency

Several projects in 2019/20 were implemented to sustain organizational capacity and ensure CPA Alberta is resilient and agile in responding to the changing business landscape.

Work in this area included:

- Continuing to develop a paperless accounts payable system
- Introducing innovations in financial reporting and continuing to develop best practices
- Implementing an automated fraud detection tool
- Continuing to implement the CPA Alberta Member Management System (CAMMS), with new system expected to be rolled out in 2020/21

2020/21 Outlook

In 2020/21, CPA Alberta will be in its fourth year of operating under its current five-year strategic plan. Progress achieved during the first three years under that plan has been notable, and all indications are that the organization will meet its targets and goals by the end of Year Five in 2021/22. Working toward those targets and goals will be the primary focus of CPA Alberta through 2020/21.

The onset of the COVID-19 global pandemic just as fiscal 2019/20 drew to a close requires that CPA Alberta re-evaluate its plans for the new fiscal year. The impact of the pandemic, along with the resulting economic downturn and the historic decline in global energy markets, are all expected to have deep impacts on the CPA profession in Alberta and across Canada. It will be essential, therefore, that CPA Alberta align its work to respond to these impacts, while at the same time ensuring its core mandate to protect the public is met without interruption.

As severe as the outlook for 2020/21 appears to be as the year begins, we know that CPAs will be essential to the recovery and future growth of the provincial economy. As business leaders, trusted advisors, proven strategic thinkers, and fiscal experts, CPAs will provide vital input and direction to business, the public sector, and the broader community in the months ahead. CPA Alberta's role during this time of recovery will be to fulfill its legislated mandate by providing CPAs with relevant and timely resources, services, products and processes, so that those CPAs in turn can continue to serve Alberta with rigour, integrity and high levels of professional competency.

Also in 2020/21, the Board and management of CPA Alberta will begin to contemplate beyond the term of the current five-year strategic plan in order to map out the next five years for the organization and the profession in Alberta. As this longer-term planning work begins, CPA Alberta will look to Alberta CPAs for their ideas and priorities. There is no doubt that, at a time of uncertainty and challenge, the wisdom and expertise of Alberta CPAs will be crucial to the success of CPA Alberta and the profession in the coming year and beyond.

Financial Discussion

Overview

CPA Alberta commits to a balanced budget annually. The budget supports the Board of Directors' strategic objectives while protecting the public through high regulatory standards and offering programs and services that provide value to the membership. While the fiscal year ended March 31, 2020 planned a balanced budget, the actual financial results report a deficit of $322,318. This mainly resulted from unrealized loss on investments due to the market downturn during the COVID-19 pandemic, while other areas of operations experienced offsetting variances. Of note is that during the last quarter, when the major market downturn happened, CPA Alberta's portfolio outperformed the market benchmark by 0.96%. This demonstrates that CPA Alberta's investment approach has served the goal of capital preservation well and provided downside protection, which is crucial to not-for-profit organizations such as CPA Alberta.

Understanding Our Business

Funding

CPA Alberta is organized around three business units: Member Services, Regulatory, and Communications and Recruitment. These business units are assisted by a support team comprised of Corporate Services, Business Systems, and the Executive Office.

CPA Alberta is funded through various sources of revenue, so that the organization can fulfill its mandate under the CPA Act. Membership fees continue to be the primary source of funding, followed by public accounting firm fees and post-certification learning. These fees support the various activities and programs provided by CPA Alberta and allow the profession to self-regulate.

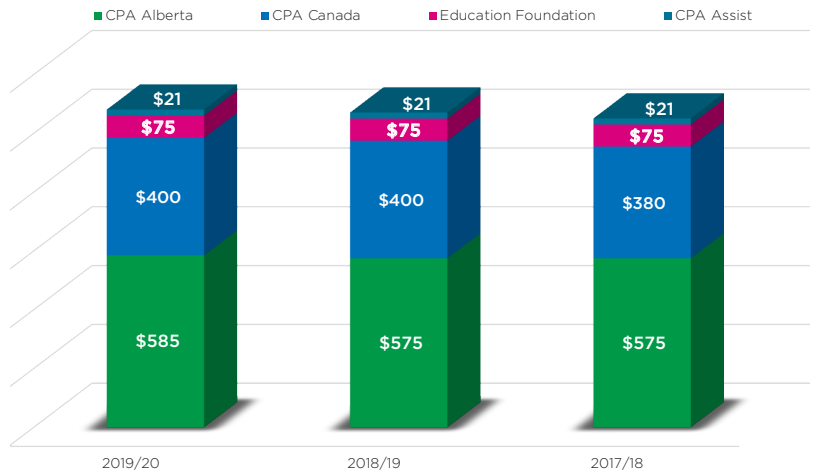

Pre-certification learning revenue relates to student fees collected by the CPA Western School of Business (CPAWSB) on behalf of CPA Alberta. This is a result of the operating agreement effected on April 1, 2019. These fees are mainly used to support student programming.

Membership Fees

There was a $10 increase in provincial member fees in 2019/20 to $585 from $575; this was the first increase since fiscal year 2016/17, when membership fees and fee reduction policies were harmonized.

Provincial fees remain comparable to the other western Canadian provinces. National (CPA Canada) fees remained at $400 and are remitted to CPA Canada on behalf of Alberta CPAs.

Through the CPA Alberta fee reduction program, Alberta CPAs can apply for a fee reduction provided certain criteria are met. The objective of the program is to support members who are not active in the accounting profession or who have a reduced income for any reason. The economic downturn in Alberta over the past number of years has increased the use of this program, and the slow recovery has continued to impact member fee revenue due to an increased number of fee reduction applications. Although it is difficult to predict economic conditions, in light of the COVID-19 pandemic and the expected continued low oil prices, CPA Alberta expects to see an increase in the number of members applying for fee reduction or fee deferral in the upcoming year.

MEMBER FEES REDUCTION TRENDRING ('000)

Public Accounting and Registration Fees

Public Accounting and Registration Fees slightly increased compared to the prior year.

Practice reviews are performed on a three-year cycle. Annually, the cycle may fluctuate in terms of volume, complexity of the practice reviews performed, and location of the firms reviewed. Higher practice review revenues this year were due to an increase in review hours performed, driven by the types of firms reviewed, new firms, and firms with increased risk cycle.

Post-certification Learning

Post-certification learning revenue encompasses a comprehensive program of professional development programs, conferences, and custom courses. Fiscal 2019/20 re-launched the Executive Learning Program, which experienced sold-out registrations for most of the offerings. Revenues for the main professional development offerings has seen a decline, primarily from reduced registrations and a reduction in Passport pricing. Approximately $133K of the decline in revenue is attributed to the cancellation of several in-person offerings resulting from COVID-19 protocols.

Cost Recoveries and Fines

COST RECOVERIES & FINES ('000)

*Excludes pre-certification recoveries of $2.9M

Cost recoveries and fines include expense reimbursements from related parties for work CPA Alberta performs on their behalf, as noted in the financial statement disclosures. This also includes cost recoveries and fines for conduct and discipline activities.

There was a significant decrease in cost recoveries from the CPAWSB, related to a change in the student education delivery model as reflected in the new operating agreement that was effective April 1, 2019. This revenue is captured within pre-certification revenue for 2019/20.

Cost recoveries relating to conduct and discipline cases have also decreased. The timing and amount of these recoveries vary year over year, depending on the nature and complexity of the case.

Pre-certification Learning

Pre-certification learning revenue reflects the student fees collected by CPAWSB on behalf of CPA Alberta for the fiscal year 2019/20.

As reported in the financial statement note disclosures (Note 7), CPAWSB acts as an agent for the western provinces to deliver the CPA Professional Education Program (PEP) and Preparatory Education Program (PREP) to students, and the appropriate revenue and expenses are reported accordingly.

Investments and Other Income

An Investment Policy Statement (IPS) for CPA Alberta was approved by the Board of Directors in March 2016 and subsequently amended in September 2017. The IPS has been designed to generate income and long-term capital growth. The IPS is reviewed by the Audit and Risk Committee on a regular basis. The portfolio produced positive returns until early February 2020, primarily from the U.S. and Canadian equity market holdings. The development of the COVID-19 pandemic in the last two months of this fiscal year has negatively impacted the global markets, resulting in a $247,000 unrealized loss by the end of the fiscal year.

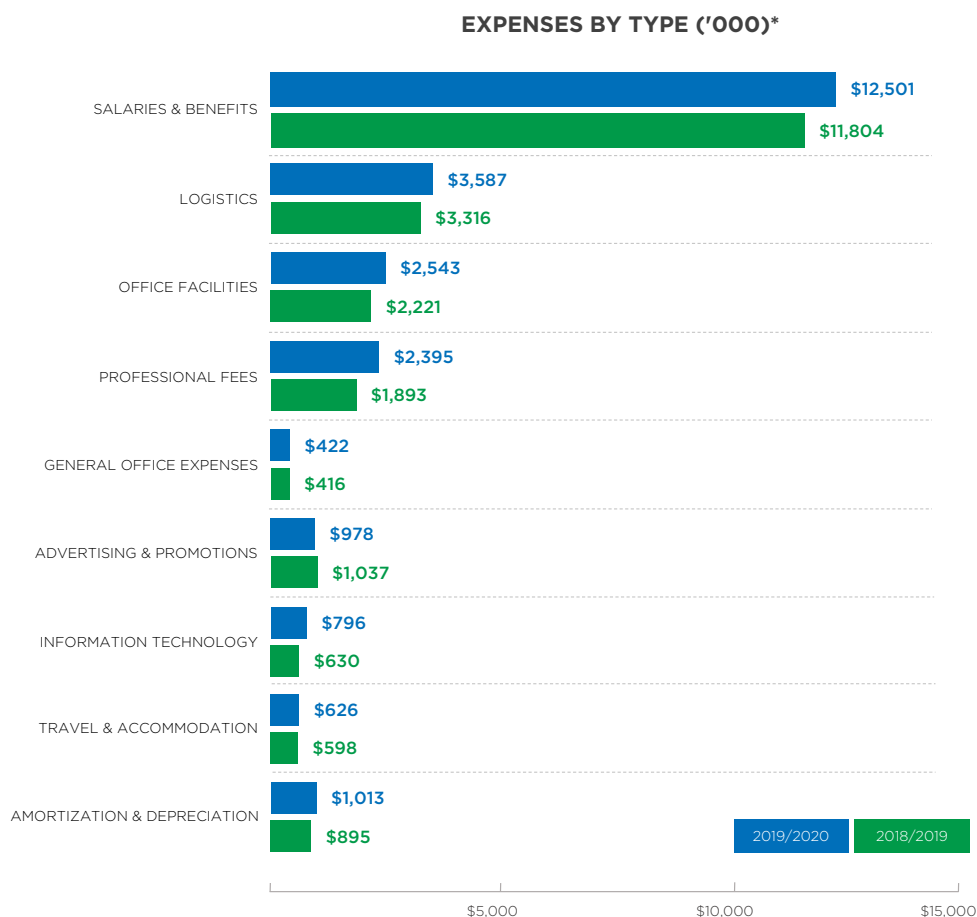

CPA Canada is responsible for program development and operating expenses related to PEP, PREP, and the Advanced Certificate in Accounting and Finance (ACAF). The ACAF program is now discontinued, with the last ACAF National Examination on January 29, 2021. The provinces fund these expenditures and share any related surplus or deficit.

Understanding Our Business

Operating Expenses

Operating expenses increased over the prior year. Increases in salaries and benefits are due to filling previously vacated positions. Significant work on an organizational security project as well as project post-implementation support costs were the main contributors for the increased spending in professional fees. Pre-certification learning expenses relate to spending incurred by CPAWSB in the delivery of student programs.

SALARIES & BENEFITS ('000)Human Capital

CPA Alberta prides itself on high service standards and support to its members. Accordingly, as a service organization, salaries and benefits continue to be CPA Alberta's most significant expense. CPA Alberta completes a market assessment every two years to ensure compensation and benefits remain comparable to similar organizations.

CPA Alberta has optimized staffing levels while ensuring a high-performing and effective team by strategically positioning itself as an employer of choice. CPA Alberta offers a competitive salary and benefits program compared to similar not-for-profit and public service entities. To ensure employees remain competent and engaged, CPA Alberta invests in a corporate training program to develop the skills and competencies required in the various roles and job families.

Employees are rewarded for meeting strategic objectives through a Performance Management program that measures success towards goals and contributions to the workplace. In addition, CPA Alberta has a number of other initiatives within its rewards program, including peer-to-peer recognition and long-term service awards. CPA Alberta also supports team building and social responsibility through its volunteer social committee, which provides events to employees throughout the year, including those that support organizations such as the Edmonton and Calgary Food Banks and Brown Bagging for Kids.

Understanding Our Business

Financial Stewardship

System and Processes

CPA Alberta maintains a high-quality system of accounting and administrative controls that is consistent with reasonable cost. Our system is designed to provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is reliable and accurate, and the assets are appropriately accounted for and adequately safeguarded. CPA Alberta is confident that there are no deficiencies that would impair its ability to provide reliable, timely disclosure or affect its ability to execute its strategic plan.

Non-financial Resources

CPA Alberta relies heavily on experienced volunteers and employees to enable it to carry out its mandate. The organization has an experienced team of directors, managers, staff, and volunteers that can be redeployed to meet changing market needs and support the organization in implementing its strategies.

Impact From the COVID-19 Pandemic

The development of the COVID-19 pandemic occurred towards the end of this fiscal year, and the impact on the financial results are mainly from the cancellation of planned professional development courses due to social distancing measures, as well as the unrealized loss of the investment portfolio in the last two months of the year ($661K unrealized loss).

Capital Resources ('000)

At March 31, 2020, CPA Alberta had a cash balance of $3,785, compared to $8,649 at March 31, 2019. The decrease is primarily from decline in cash inflow from member fees for the upcoming billing year (2020/21), as important deadlines were extended in light of the global pandemic. Cancellations of several in-person professional development offerings as well as events for the next three months have resulted in an increase in cash refunds as well.

Long-term Investments ('000)

Long-term Investments include fixed-income securities and common shares based on the asset allocation in the Investment Policy Statement (IPS). The IPS and investment advisor performance is reviewed annually by the Audit and Risk Committee. The objective of the IPS is to focus on wealth preservation and some long-term growth to retain the real (inflation-adjusted) value of the portfolio. The risk profile of the portfolio is low- to moderate-risk. The long-term investments balance at March 31, 2020, was $7,062, compared to $7,101 in the prior year.

Tangible and Intangible Capital Assets ('000)

At March 31, 2020, CPA Alberta held tangible capital assets with a net book value of $5,555, compared to $6,303 in the prior year. The decrease was due to the depreciation and amortization on the assets. Intangible Assets include development costs for upgrading the existing member management system in use ($3,551). The system will continue to be upgraded in phases over the next two years.

Capital Assets	2019/20	2018/19
Tangible	$5,555	$6,303
Intangible	$3,551	$2,012

Working Capital ('000)

The working capital position at March 31, 2020, which is defined as current assets minus current liabilities, is $701, compared to $1,986 in the prior year. The decrease in working capital is primarily from the reduction in capital resources as mentioned prior. The organization believes that the current cash position and anticipated cash flows from operations is sufficient to meet future working capital and capital expenditure requirements. The COVID-19 pandemic's impact on the organization's operations will be closely monitored.

Net Assets ('000)

CPA Alberta has a Net Assets Policy in place to ensure sufficient net assets are available to respond to adverse business conditions and to mitigate revenue and expense fluctuations year to year.

The Board has restricted a portion of Net Assets for capital assets, wellness programs for members, future development of the CPA Education program, and to fund regulatory processes.

The Regulatory Fund supports the complexity of the regulatory processes and any related unforeseen costs, which fluctuate annually.

The CPA Assist Fund supports mental health initiatives for members.

The Education Fund supports a high-quality, relevant learning environment for students and candidates and serves to respond to significant fluctuations in revenue and expenses relating to program enrollment.

The Results ('000)

CPA Alberta reports an operating deficit of $322, compared to a $2,985 operating surplus in the prior year before transition expenses of $555. The transition expenses and related unification stabilization fund has been exhausted.

Understanding Our Business

Efficient and Effective Use of Resources

Procurement and Contract Management

The procurement and contract management business partner is responsible for ensuring that procurement initiatives of the organization are transparent and value for money is optimized. Through vendor negotiations and formal requests for proposals, CPA Alberta has realized cost savings and improvements in service and value.

Internal Controls and Analytics

The internal controls and analytics business partner is responsible for ensuring value to the membership by demonstrating accountability, transparency, and compliance through business analysis and reporting. CPA Alberta has implemented a program to enhance and protect organizational value through fraud risk assessment, risk-based and objective assurance, advice, and insight, building on the existing Enterprise Risk Management Program (ERMP).

Risks and Opportunities

An ERMP based on the ISO: 31000 standard was implemented in 2017/18 to identify, assess, treat, and report on strategic and operational risks. The objectives of CPA Alberta's ERMP are to:

- Develop a common understanding and implementation of risk management across the organization.
- Develop and implement:
 - o methods to integrate risk management into the organization's structure;
 - o standard methodology for managing risks;
 - o education, support and guidance to risk owners, and;
 - o reporting to senior management and the Board.
- Maintain risk registers for all key risks.
- Develop effective risk treatments or controls to manage risk.

In CPA Alberta's governance structure, the Audit and Risk Committee, on behalf of the Board, has the responsibility for oversight of risk management. This responsibility includes reviewing guidelines and policies to understand the process by which risk management is handled and to obtain assurance on the adequacy and effectiveness of risk management.

Through CPA Alberta's Directives, the Board has delegated the responsibility for risk management to the CEO, to ensure that proper processes and procedures are in place to continuously identify and manage key business risks within the guidelines established by the Audit and Risk Committee and the Board. The ERMP has been designed to meet these obligations and to help ensure that CPA Alberta will achieve its objectives. The strategic risk register, developed by senior management, is presented to and monitored by the Audit and Risk Committee and provided to the Board as part of the Committee's mandate.

CPA Alberta monitors several strategic risks, including:

- Ensuring CPA Alberta and the profession maintains its positive and strong reputation.
- Ensuring CPA Alberta fulfills its mandate and will continue in its self-regulatory role.
- Ensuring members are competent and continue to be respected by the public for professional accounting services and advisory and high ethical standards.
- Ensuring members continue to see value in CPA Alberta's services and its ability to self-regulate.
- Ensuring CPA Alberta continues to understand the unique Alberta Landscape and the impact on its members.
- Monitoring and addressing disruptive forces to the organization and its members.
- Ensuring private member information is secured through increased cybersecurity programs and continual monitoring and awareness of the cyber environment.
- Safeguarding the organizations assets and ensuring its viability in the long term.

As the ERMP expands and matures, CPA Alberta continues to ensure the principles of effective risk management become part of, and are integrated into, the CPA Alberta culture and workplace.

Looking Ahead

CPA Alberta's 2020/21 corporate business plan outlines the goals and strategies for the organization, guided by the current five-year strategic plan. A detailed budget was prepared in support of this plan and the Board's strategic priority to maintain fiscal accountability. Management anticipated a balanced budget for 2020/21 fiscal year. Current economic conditions and the impacts of COVID-19 will have an impact on the financial situation at CPA Alberta. CPA Alberta is monitoring the environment daily and working to mitigate potential financial impacts through cost savings and adjustments to programs and related offerings. CPA Alberta maintains a healthy net asset position that is in line with its Net Asset Policy. This healthy net asset position will help the organization to withstand these adverse business conditions.

CPA Alberta strives to operate as efficiently as possible while ensuring adequate funds to meet its mandate, provide services of value to members, and secure the long-term viability of the profession. For the 2020/21 year, Alberta member fees will increase slightly—by less than one per cent from $585 to $590—reflecting an increased cost of doing business. Implementing nominal fee increases when necessary will help the organization avoid any substantial fee increases in the future.

The portion of the total fees that go to CPA Alberta allows the organization to meet its legislated mandate by regulating the profession in the province in order to protect the public. As part of this responsibility, the fees also allow CPA Alberta to provide a number of services to help Alberta CPAs succeed, including providing professional development opportunities, promoting the value of CPAs to stakeholders, and representing Alberta CPAs nationally.

CPA Alberta recognizes that Alberta CPAs, like all Albertans, are facing stress and uncertainty due to the health, economic, and social impacts of COVID-19. These are challenging times for the province, and so, when it comes to fee payments, CPA Alberta will do what it can to respond to the specific circumstances that individual CPAs might be facing.

Looking ahead, CPA Alberta will be focusing on navigating the economic challenges and impacts of COVID-19. This is an unusual year and its circumstances will invariably have an impact on the approved corporate business plan; this plan will need to be adjusted in light of current events.

The Spring 2020 issue of Capitalize, CPA Alberta's semi-annual magazine introducing Albertans to the profession, featured Alberta CPAs providing the building blocks for a number of useful skills.

Financial Statements

For the year ended March 31, 2020

Management's Responsibilities for Financial Reporting

The accompanying financial statements of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Alberta ("CPA Alberta") and all the information in this annual report are the responsibility of management.

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations. Financial statements are not precise since they include certain amounts based on estimates and judgments. When alternative accounting methods exist, management has chosen those it deems most appropriate under the circumstances to ensure that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects. Management has prepared the financial information presented elsewhere in the Annual Report and has ensured that it is consistent with that in the financial statements.

CPA Alberta maintains systems of internal accounting and administrative controls of high quality, consistent with reasonable cost. Such systems are designed to provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is relevant, reliable and accurate and that CPA Alberta's assets are appropriately accounted for and adequately safeguarded.

The CPA Alberta Board of Directors (the "Board") is responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities for financial reporting and is ultimately responsible for the financial statements. The Board carries out this responsibility principally through its Audit and Risk Committee (the "Committee").

The Committee, which is composed of certain board members, reviews the financial statements and other information contained in the annual report and recommends them to the Board for approval. The Committee meets with management, as well as the external auditors, to discuss internal controls over the financial reporting process, auditing matters, and financial reporting issues, to satisfy itself that each party is discharging its responsibilities properly, and to review the financial statements, and the external auditor's report. The Committee also recommends the appointment of the external auditor, which is appointed by the members at the Annual General Meeting.

The financial statements have been audited by RSM Alberta LLP, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, on behalf of the members. RSM Alberta LLP has full and free access to the Committee.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Alberta, (the "Organization") which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2020, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as at March 31, 2020, and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not for profit organizations ("ASNPO").

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon, in the Annual Report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

We have obtained the Annual Report prior to the date of this auditor's report. If, based on the work we have performed on this other information, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact in this auditor's report. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with ASNPO, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

1 Incorporation and nature of operations

The Chartered Professional Accountants of Alberta (“CPA Alberta”) is a professional regulatory organization established by the Chartered Professional Accountants Act (“the Act”), and the purpose of CPA Alberta is to protect the interest of the public, to protect the integrity of the profession, to promote and increase the competence of registrants, and to regulate the conduct of registrants.

As a not-for-profit organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada), CPA Alberta is not subject to income taxes.

2 Significant accounting policies

The financial statements of CPA Alberta (“financial statements”) have been prepared in accordance with Part III of the CPA Canada Handbook, Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations (“Part III”). Significant accounting policies are described below:

Cash

Cash includes bank balances and cash held in a high-interest savings account.

Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Part III requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accounts receivable are stated after evaluation as to their collectability and an appropriate allowance for doubtful accounts is provided where considered necessary. Amortization is based on the estimated useful lives of the tangible and intangible capital assets. These estimates and assumptions are reviewed periodically and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in revenue or expenses in the period in which they become known. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized when evidence of an arrangement exists, the service has been rendered, the price is determinable, and collection is reasonably assured, as follows:

- Membership, public accounting, and registration fees are recognized as revenue in the year to which they relate. Included in public accounting and registration fees are practice review fees that are recognized when practice review services are performed;
- Pre-certification learning fees and Post-certification learning fees are recognized as revenue in the year to which they relate or when the courses are presented;
- Member events and career services registration fees, sponsorships and other related income are recognized when the event is held;

- Cost recoveries and fines resulting from hearings and appeals are recognized when decisions are made while operating cost recoveries from related parties are recognized when services are performed;
- Investment income is recognized as it is earned over the term of investment; and
- Other income is recognized as it is earned.

Tangible and Intangible assets

Capital assets (when a single asset, or multiple assets grouped together as appropriate, meets the capital asset criteria) are initially recorded at cost. Amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives as follows:

	Rate
Furniture	10 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computer software and hardware	3 years
Leasehold improvements	Lease term
Artworks	Indefinite
Intangible capital assets	10 years

The expenditures incurred on internally generated intangible assets during the development phase of the new member management system are capitalized as intangible assets.

During the year, CPA Alberta adopted the new accounting standards Handbook Section 4433 - Tangible capital assets held by not-for-profit organizations and Section 4434 - Intangible assets held by not-for-profit organizations. These standards are effective for years beginning on or after January 1, 2019 and are applied on a prospective basis. The adoption of these new standards did not have an impact on CPA Alberta's financial statements.

CPA Alberta has updated their policy as it relates to the impairment of capital assets as follows:

When conditions indicate a capital asset is impaired, the carrying value of the capital asset is written down to the asset's fair value or replacement cost. The write down of the capital assets is recorded as an expense in the statement of operations. A write down shall not be reversed.

Contributed materials and services

Contributed materials and services are recorded at fair value when the amount can reasonably be determined and would have been purchased by CPA Alberta if not contributed. Due to the difficulty of determining their fair value, volunteer services are not recognized in the financial statements. There were no contributed materials and services recorded for the years ended March 31, 2020 and March 31, 2019.

Deferred lease incentives

Lease incentives received, including rent-free periods and tenant inducements for leasehold improvements, are recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease as a reduction in rental expense as a component of administration expenses.

Financial instruments

CPA Alberta initially measures financial assets and financial liabilities at their fair value. The organization subsequently measures its financial assets and financial liabilities, other than investments, at amortized cost. The financial assets subsequently measured at amortized cost include cash and accounts receivable. The financial liabilities subsequently measured at amortized cost include accounts payable and accrued liabilities. Investments are recorded at fair value.

3 Investments

Long-term investments consist of fixed income securities, preferred shares, and common shares that can be readily liquidated. The distribution of the long-term investments, and change in market value, are as follows:

	March 31, 2020		March 31, 2019
	Fair Value	Cost	Fair Value	Cost
Fixed income	$ 4,271,748	$ 4,036,247	$ 4,144,545	$ 4,006,613
Canadian equity	1,272,507	1,457,167	1,377,450	1,314,861
US equity	1,232,523	1,276,675	1,269,304	1,253,088
International equity	285,105	294,740	310,104	283,169
	$ 7,061,883	$ 7,064,829	$ 7,101,403	$ 6,857,731

The long-term investments balance includes an unrealized loss of $2,946 (2019 – gain of $243,672). A gain of $7,202 that was realized in the 2020 fiscal year (2019 – gain of $73,003) and an unrealized loss of $246,618 in the 2020 fiscal year (2019 – gain of $134,564) are included in investment and other income. Annual interest rates on fixed income range from approximately 1.82% to 8.35%, and mature at various dates from June 2020 to Dec 2050. (In 2019, the annual interest rates on bonds ranged from 1.67% to 8.35%, and maturity dates ranged from April 2019 to July 2046).

Cash earned interest for the year ended March 31, 2020 of $191,472 (2019 - $90,676). Interest earned on long-term investments for the year ended March 31, 2020 was $246,572 (2019 - $271,651). Annual interest rates on cash in 2020 ranged from 0.25% to 2.05% (2019 – 0.65% to 1.9%).

15 Financial Instruments

CPA Alberta's risk exposures related to its financial instruments are outlined as follows:

a) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss to the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. CPA Alberta's main credit risk relates to its cash and accounts receivable.

CPA Alberta mitigates its exposure to credit loss by placing its cash with major financial institutions. Accounts receivable are primarily from CPA Alberta's members, partners and CPA Canada. Management believes CPA Alberta's exposure to credit risk is not significant.

b) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that CPA Alberta will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. CPA Alberta is exposed to this risk mainly through its accounts payable and accrued liabilities. CPA Alberta mitigates its liquidity risk by monitoring its operating cash flow requirements to ensure it has sufficient funds to meet its obligations.

c) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rate. The investments of CPA Alberta are subject to interest rate risk because changing interest rates impact the market value of the fixed rate investments. Cash held in the bank has cash flow risk due to market interest rates.

d) Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. CPA Alberta is exposed to currency risk through its investments in US and global markets.

e) Other price risk

Other price risk refers to the risk that the fair value of a financial instrument, or the future cash flows associated with the financial instrument, will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from currency risk or interest rate risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual instrument, or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar instruments traded in the market. CPA Alberta is exposed to other price risk through its investment in equity securities traded in an active market.

CPA Alberta manages its credit, interest rate and other price risk by restricting investments to a diverse range of corporate preferred shares, common shares and government and corporate fixed income securities with specified ratings and terms as prescribed by CPA Alberta Board resolution.
